DETAILED ACTION

Miscellaneous

1. Please note that the examiner and examination art unit for this application have changed.

Election/Restrictions

2. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
 - I. Claims 11-19, drawn to a method for displaying/storing advertisements based upon a similarity score less than or equal to a predetermined threshold similarity score, classified in class 725, subclass 42 and/or class 725, subclass 142.
 - II. Claims 26-43, drawn to a system for displaying/storing advertisements that monitors the number of times an advertisement was displayed, classified in class 725, subclass 46.
 - III. Claims 45-46, drawn to a system for displaying storing advertisements that manages the storage of the advertisements so as to ensure that a maximum number is maintained, classified in class 725, subclass 42 and/or class 725, subclass 142.
 - IV. Claims 49-52, drawn to a system for displaying and storing advertisements that manages the storage of the advertisements beyond the advertisement predetermined lifetime, classified in class 725, subclass 42 and/or class 725, subclass 142.

- V. Claims 59-64, drawn to a method for selecting advertisements and further displaying request information associated with the advertisement, classified in class 725, subclass 51.

3. The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Inventions I -V are related as subcombinations disclosed as usable together in a single combination. The subcombinations are distinct if they do not overlap in scope and are not obvious variants, and if it is shown that at least one subcombination is separately usable. In the instant case, subcombinations I, III, and IV are directed towards different techniques/criteria associated with managing the storage of advertisements and subcombinations II and V are directed towards capturing statistical information and advertisement interactivity features respectively. Subcombination I particularly has separate utility such as the particular storage of advertisements based upon a similarity score being less than or equal to a predetermined threshold similarity score. Subcombination II particularly has separate utility such as the ability to monitor the number of times a particular advertisement was displayed for statistical reporting purposes. Subcombination III particularly has separate utility such as the ability to manages the storage of the advertisements to ensure that a maximum number is maintained. Subcombination IV particularly has separate utility such as managing the storage of advertisements beyond the advertisement predetermined lifetime. Subcombination V has separate utility such as the ability to further process/display request information associated with the advertisement such as that corresponding to a product order. See MPEP § 806.05(d).

The examiner has required restriction between subcombinations usable together. Where applicant elects a subcombination and claims thereto are subsequently found allowable, any claim(s) depending from or otherwise requiring all the limitations of the allowable subcombination will be examined for patentability in accordance with 37 CFR 1.104. See MPEP § 821.04(a). Applicant is advised that if any claim presented in a continuation or divisional application is anticipated by, or includes all the limitations of, a claim that is allowable in the present application, such claim may be subject to provisional statutory and/or nonstatutory double patenting rejections over the claims of the instant application.

4. Because these inventions are independent or distinct for the reasons given above and there would be a serious burden on the examiner if restriction is not required because the inventions have acquired a separate status in the art in view of their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.
5. Because these inventions are independent or distinct for the reasons given above and there would be a serious burden on the examiner if restriction is not required because the inventions require a different field of search (see MPEP § 808.02), restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper. For example, the particularly claimed memory management techniques, while not separately classified, are distinctive queue management features that require differing search queries.
6. Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of an invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

Art Unit: 2623

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C.103(a) of the other invention.

7. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
